

It's your future. You decide where to go, the speed and if anyone goes with you. How does it feel to be in the driving seat?

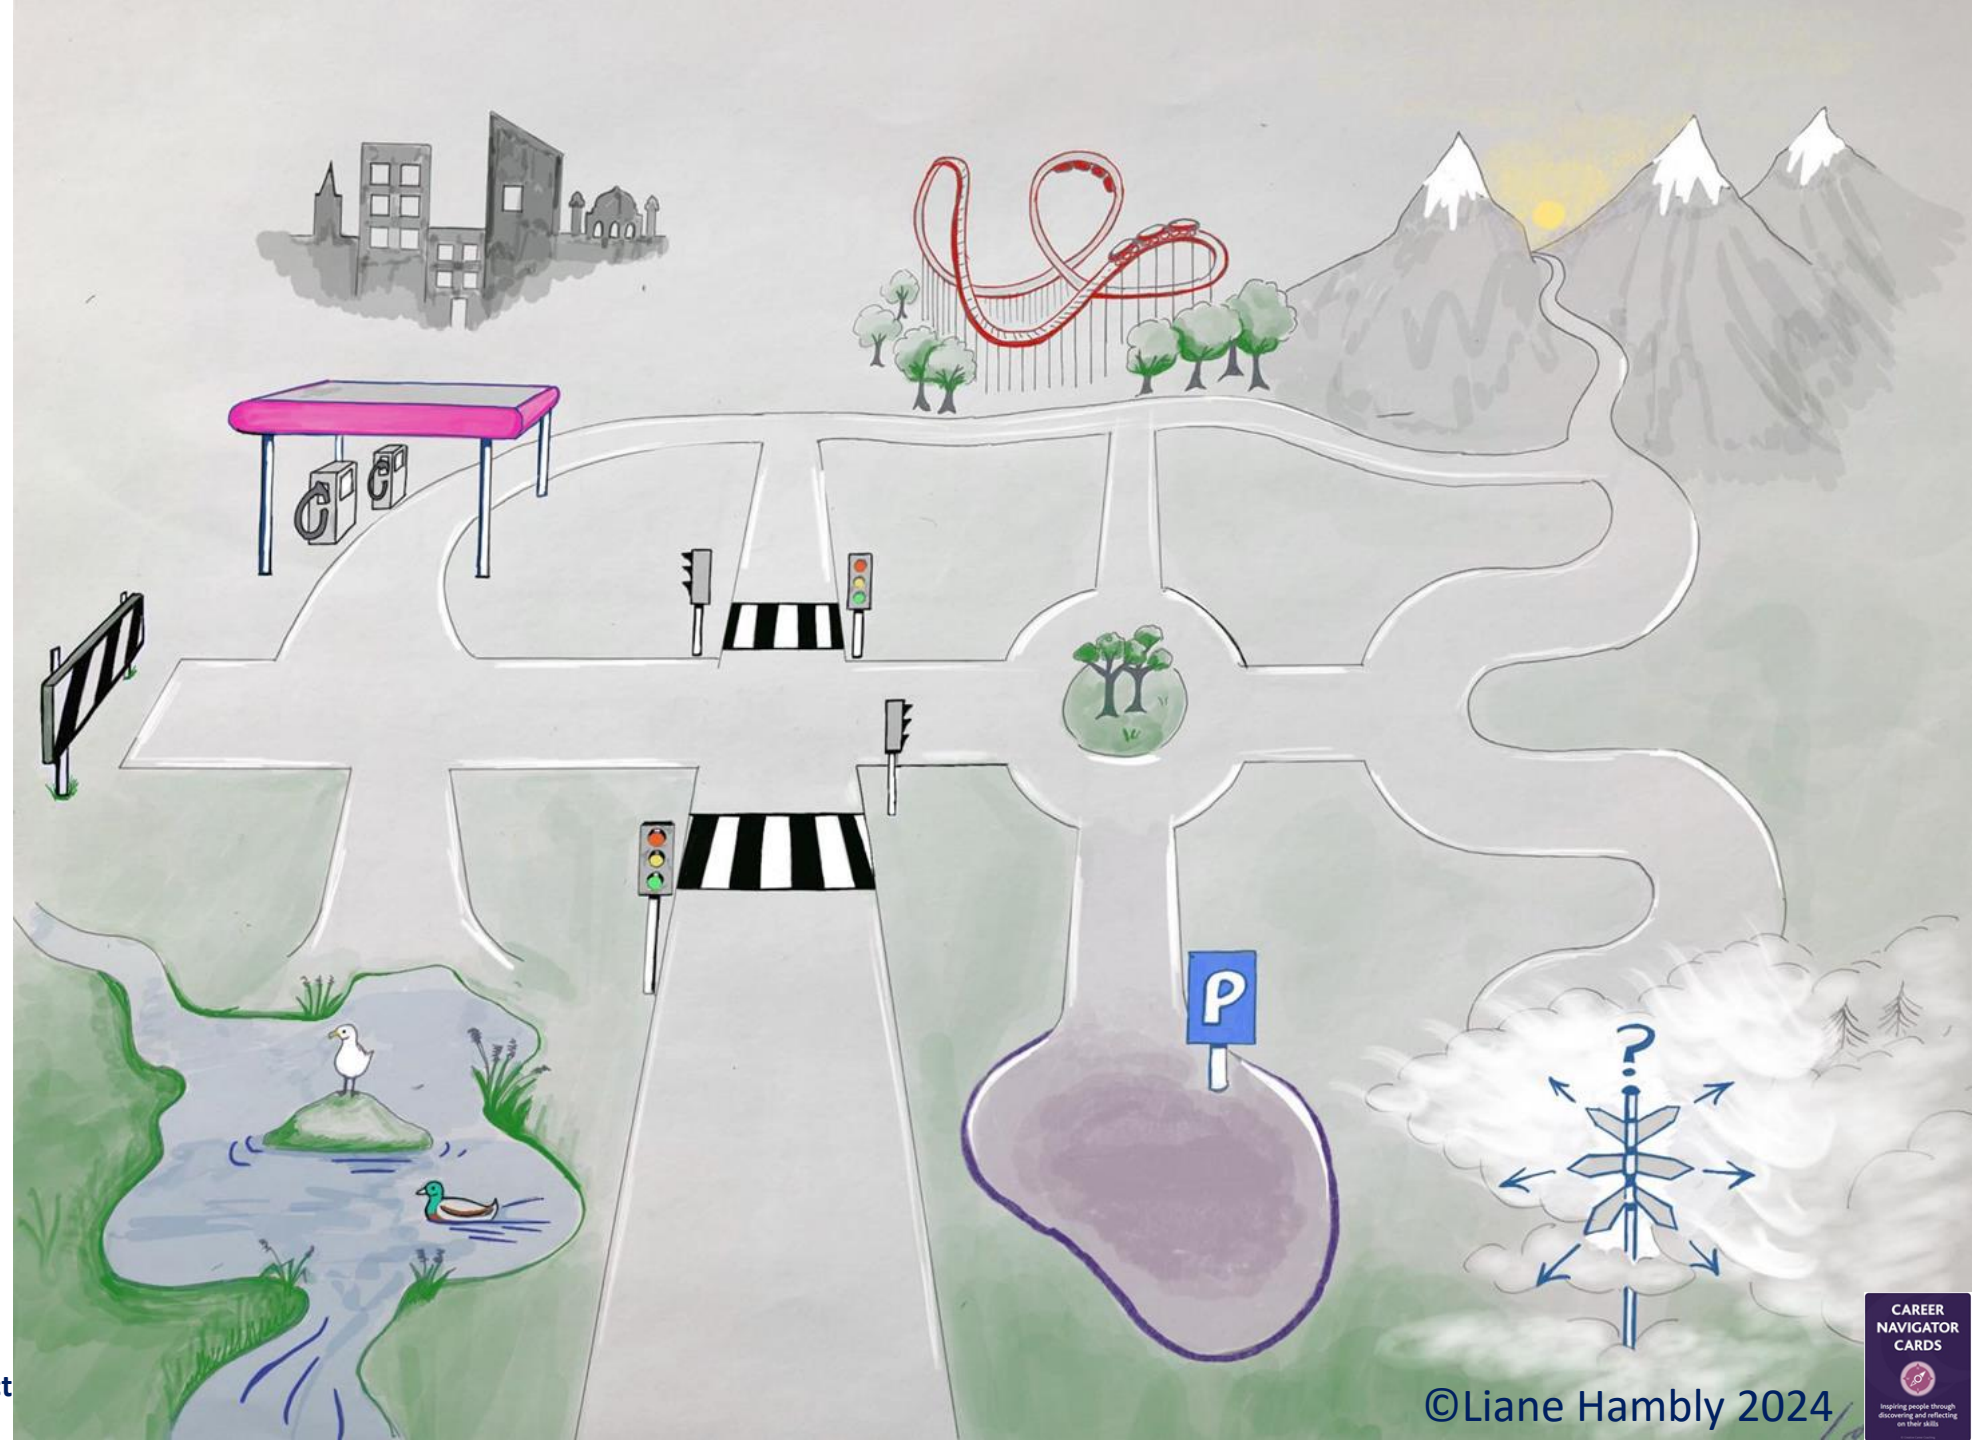

What vehicle would you like for the journey?

You are already on a career journey (career isn't just paid work – it includes voluntary work, study, training, caring roles). Where are you on the road at this point in your life? Describe where you are. Add features if you like.

Where would you like to be, perhaps this time next year? Describe that place.

Is there anything that would help you get there?
E.g. Self-confidence, knowing where to look for information, looking beyond the options I already know, accessing support, courage to step outside the comfort zone, feeling more motivated
